

ANNOUNCEMENTS

for February 5, 2021

Parkersburg & Morgantown, WV and Athens, OH

Greetings everyone:

Today was a very cold day with the wind blowing and the temperature in the 30's. The forecast is for another cold week. Hopefully we can see some warming as we get closer to March.

In the attached letter Mr. Franks discusses the true cause of evil in the world. This is a world that is under the sway of evil. The Passover is coming up in a few weeks. We should make sure that we keep focused on the promises of the Bible.

Christ's coming will bring a new world of peace and prosperity. Finally, mankind as a whole will learn that God's way works. All the pagan ideas and false ideas about true Christianity will be a thing of the past.

The new COGWA Bible Study course is now available. You can download it online at: <https://members.cogwa.org/education/type/bible-study-course/> If you do not have access to the internet let Mr. Sproul or me know and we can get you a copy.

Cheryl and I plan to be in Morgantown tomorrow.

Have a great Sabbath!

Bill Jahns

Pastor Morgantown & Athens-Parkersburg

YOUTH CAMP

We are happy to announce that the dates for our 2021 camps in the United States are now available on the home page of the camp website, <https://camps.cogwa.org/>. You will note that this year only two of our camps are scheduled to run at the same time—Camp Sequoia Preteen and Camp Cherokee. We were able to space all the others out so that they do not conflict.

We also wanted to let everyone know that because we did not run our in-person camps last summer, our teen camps will all be accepting 19-year-olds this year. The preteen camps will stick to their normal 6-12 age range.

Some enhancements for the application process are in the works—such as digital signatures—but we are not quite ready to announce all the details. We look forward to sharing those with you as we get closer to our early March starting time for applications.
